IS THE FASTEST GROWING COMMUNITY IN THE EVERGLADES

VOLUME 10—No. 12

Recent Operations

By Paul Hardin

On Wednesday of this week I witnessed the beginning of a new era in the Lake Okechobee beef cattle industry. What I saw was the beginning of a new industry—cattle fattening.

I know, of course, that during the past few years several attempts have been made to fatten beef cattle on the mucklands around Lake Okechobee. To date, none of these experiments have brought cattle raising and fattening forcibly to the attention of those who must make a living in this section. Experiments have been made. A lot of talking has been done. BUT, we still buy our beef from outside markets.

What I saw this week was "something new under the sun." I visited the cattle pens of the United States Sugar Corporation at Clewiston where 285 head of range cattle are being penned and are being fattened on special mixtures of feed.

The cattle are crosses of Brahmas, Herefords and Buffaloes and were taken from Florida ranges where they took ten or more years for each animal to "cut out an existence. In the fattening pen a few weeks made a big difference in the looks of the animals.

The special feed is made from ground green grass and molasses with a dash of cotton seed meal and peanut oil. The ration amounts don't make any difference at this time for the keepers are feeding the cattle on the same ration. The feed is being fed to the cattle in the pens and the feed is being fed to the cattle in the pens.

I was interested in the feeding pen which I found my attention was attracted to the amount of molasses available at all times for the cattle. Large troughs with tanks of molasses were placed in the pens and throughout the two hours I was there dozens of the animals were eating unceasingly from the molasses trough.

I was interested in one pen of steers—32 head—that gained 3.14 pounds per steer per day over a test period of 28 days. Another pen of 14 steers over a like period gained 2.54 pounds per steer per day. The first pen was a mixture of the second pen was somewhat different from that in the first where the largest gain was shown.

Several of the steers had the attendant called "Marsh name" when they were put in the pens. After a few weeks on the special lemon grass and molasses diet the mange was thoroughly "cut out" without any treatment of the skin. Sufficient minerals were present in the food mixtures to bring about a complete cure of the mange, he said.

I did a lot of thinking while I was perched up in the fence around those feeding pens. Maybe newspaper men have vivid imaginations—or maybe I was just putting two and two together and figuring on the future of this section that is known as the Lake Okechobee farming region.

With the uncertain weather conditions which we experience here it seems that each year it becomes more of a problem to raise and harvest profitable crops of green tender vegetables and citrus fruits since the first of January should be enough to convince any clear thinking man that something has gone wrong with the weather in this country if we are to grow and expand and take our rightful share of the agricultural resources of America.

I am not a pioneer of this region. I've been here only seven years. But, gentle reader, if you'll show me seven men in any other community who have been growing and expanding and taking their rightful share of the agricultural resources of America.

To those of you who have a few spare dollars it might be a good idea to make a thorough investigation of this cattle fattening business.

Band Will Present Concert At School Auditorium Tonight

To Help Pay Expense To Contest

The Palmetto High School Band will present a concert in the High School Auditorium tonight at 8 p. m. The proceeds of the concert are to be used to defray expenses of the Band to the State Band Music Festival at St. Petersburg early in April. Glades Products At Annual Dinner

U.S.S. Correspondent Clarence R. Hayes, announced that the annual dinner of the Glades Lion Tuesday night was made up from products grown in the Everglades. The menu was as follows: Florida leys' pink grapefruit, green olives, Belle Glade heads of celery, Roast turkey, Claret sauce, Fried potatoes, Everglades parsley potatoes, Pahokee, fresh English peas, Shawnee farms iceberg lettuce, Palm Beach county ice cream and candy, roquefort cheese, coffee, hot rolls, cigars and cigarettes.

Volunteer Beans Bring Neat Sum

A small tract of volunteer beans grown by Mrs. Lee at Lake Harbor netted her the neat sum of $227.00. The beans were planted in the fall and the patch of ground was diked following harvest of the fall bean crop. After the diking Mrs. Lee ordered a few volunteer beans coming up and left them, planning to replant the tract later. The beans grew over the winter and the week when picked there were 109 hampers. Noelle Wilson sold them to Ray Buck for $2.00 per bushel. They were of the bountiful variety.

Board Plans For Legislation

The Palm Beach County Board of Commissioners are planning on preparing a bill to be introduced into the Legislature, and a local publication, which would give the Board the right to buy and lease land for the purpose of building, operating, and maintaining, bathing beaches and recreational centers, to embrace the entire county. The commission realizes that the tourist trade is a big asset to the county and that more parks, beaches and entertainment centers must be provided for them, if they continue to come to this section of the state.

Mr. Hayes To Speak Before C. P. T. A.

Principal J. C. Cox, of the Canal Point Public school, announced today that Paxon C. Hayes, hereafter called "P. C. Hayes," will speak at the school Monday night, 7:30, in the school auditorium under the sponsorship of the local Parent-Teacher Association.

Mr. Hayes, a local parent-teacher, uses live specimens of rattlers in his talks and instructs the pupils in their habits, customs and means of protecting themselves by means of first aid methods. He has been on a tour of Mexico for further explorations, and is now living on his boat anchored at Clewiston.

Pre-Cooling Plant Is In Operation

The new pre-cooling plant, which was erected near the South Bay, is now in operation. The plant was erected by the South Bay Water and Electric Company. The plant is used for pre-cooling of water for the sugar cane industry.

How To Keep From Growing Old

Always race with locomotives to crossings. Engineers like it; it breaks the monotony of their jobs. Always pass the car ahead on curves or turns. Don't use horn, if you can manage the fellow and cause him to turn out too far. Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist on your rights. Always speed; it shows them you are a man of pep even the amateur driver. Never stop, look or listen at railroad crossings. It cuts time. Always look your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic. In wet weather drive close to pedestrians. Dry cleaners appreciate this. Never look around when you back up; there is never anything behind you. Drive confidently, just as if there were not eighteen million other cars in service.

Improved housing has been provided for the workers; wages have been doubled, the number of employees increased and the period of peak employment extended. During those ten years studies have been started on a number of crops which some day may be important for the area. Years of study, analysis and research have borne excellent fruit in animal husbandry, proof is now available that beef cattle can be finished for market in South Florida, for such contribution to the welfare of the area we, and that "we" takes in the entire organization, can take prideable pride.

There are many other aspects of the progress of the past ten years with which all in the Lake region are familiar, and all these aspects have made the "Glades" a better place in which to live and work. One of these other aspects I cannot pass without some mention. I refer to the intelligent farmers who have been encouraged and assisted in the diversification of their crops by the addition of sugar-cane, a staple non-surplus necessity. To the hundreds of other farmers in the Glades who desire the stability of income which will come from sugar-cane culture, I promise unremitting effort in assisting them to regain their inherent and traditional right to supply the non-surplus needs of their fellow Americans.

Looking around the Lake region makes one proud of a job well done. In that feeling the directors and stockholders join. The pride we have is not a little personal pride; it is not the egotistical pride of personal accomplishment; it is pride of the right to count ourselves as members of the organization that has accomplished so much for the Everglades.

usual tenacity and that resiliency is the main-spring of its success. Work, hard work and more of it, was the answer to each and every trouble and setback and as a result success has crowned its efforts. For too many organizations and so-called national leaders used each and every opportunity to fret, pecked for and created opportunities to blame others for their own shortcomings but not this organization.

Each and every time this organization was cracked down during the past ten years, whether by nature or by man-made laws, or even more threats of man-made laws, did this organization call it "meeting of self-pity." I ask you, did it? Did this organization call it "meeting of self-pity." I ask you, did it? Did this organization blame everything and everybody for its troubles? I ask you, did it? Did this organization cut and take away the quality or decadence of our civilization? I ask you, did it?

You have answered those questions and answered them truthfully. While our so-called leaders cried about the trouble they claimed others brought upon them, you quietly and calmly accomplished your task. When those rated as the great of the country complained about hard times, you quietly accomplished miracles. You have much of which to be proud and are well justified in that pride. You are entitled to membership in the ranks of the real and worthy while leaders of our nation.

I pay you no compliment, but merely state just what you have done. Most of you have been so close to the picture that I doubt if you fully appreciate your own accomplishments. What have you done? I will tell you.

Ten years ago the Everglades was sick unto death, laydying, was something about which to reminisce, store shelving was something to fill with mental pictures of desirable society. The future was non-existent. Nowhere in America was the outlook as hopeless, and it was sadly depressed throughout the nation. Your faith, your vision, your courage, your loyalty, and last but not least, your hard work, made possible an outstanding accomplishment, a miracle, during years of depression and we are here tonight to honor you in that accomplishment.

Not as a reward for accomplishment, but rather as a visible sign of such accomplishment, I hold in my hand an emblem. That emblem is a reproduction of a clump of sugar-cane superimposed upon a silhouette of the Sugar-house; it is equipped with a threaded shank and button so as to fasten it in a man's coat lapel. That emblem is a mark of accomplishment. I know those fortunate enough to obtain it will always wear it with the pride that comes from the knowledge of a job well done. The Board of Directors has authorized the presentation of a bronze emblem to every employee of five years or more, a silver emblem for ten or more years of service, and a gold emblem to those who have been connected with the organization or its projects for fifteen or more years. Suitable additions will be made as the time arrives for each additional five years of service. Distribution of emblems to Key Men will be made at the annual dinners, all other employees will receive identically similar emblems for their period of service at the time of the harvest festival and ball one. I am glad to be able to tell you that the later distribution will award a number of gold emblems for fifteen years' service, a silver larger number as silver for ten years or more years' service, and hundreds of bronze emblems for five or more years' service. As I already stated, emblems distribution to other than Key Men will take place at end-of-harvest bachelors.

Perhaps it might be well to state that the emblems are in addition to the stock bonus to Key Men and the participations to other employees.

A LETTER

The Everglades News
Canal Point, Fla.

Dear Paul:

After serving the First Baptist Church of Pahokee, for three years and eight months, I am going back to my old home state. I have felt for some time that I should return to Tennessee, and after urging from my friends, there, I decided to resign the pastorate of the above Church, and return home.

It has been a pleasure to serve the Church at Pahokee, and I have found many good people here, that I am happy to call my friends. Among them I have esteemed the friendship of the two local weekly papers, and their owners very highly.

Church work in the Everglades is different to any other place I have served, owing to seasonal aspect of the workers here. At times the work has been very heavy and hard, but I have enjoyed every day of it. There have been a few misunderstandings but that is to be found everywhere. And I leave this section with only the best, and kindest wishes for everybody.

For the Church I have served, for the community, and for the local weeklies, I wish every blessing.

God bless all is my sincere prayer.

"I get Double Range Anti-Knock!"

Every motorist knows that there are two important ranges of acceleration where highest anti-knock performance is needed. For example, you need knockless power at 10 to 45 miles per hour for acceleration in traffic and 45 to 90 miles per hour for passing other cars and climbing hills. Some gasolines may give high anti-knock in one range but not in the other. But the new Sinclair H-C combines high anti-knock performance in both ranges.

With the Double-Range anti-knock in H-C you also get other remarkable qualities in performance. You get quick starting—rapid pick-up—smooth power—and long mileage.

Try a complete tankful of the new Double-Range H-C in your car today. Your nearby Sinclair dealer sells it at regular price. You will find it adds to the pleasure of driving and helps reduce motoring expense as well! Ask for the new Sinclair H-C.
